PCOM HISTORY

PCOM HISTORY

We all have dreams. We all want to believe deep down in our hearts that we have a special gift to give people, that we can make a difference, and that we can make the world a better place. At some time, we set a goal for the quality of life that we would like to give to others. To do so, we may have to struggle toward that purpose. We establish an institution or movement with a group of founders. A mixture of frustration, unexpected crises, and major changes in administration occur. If the goal is accomplished, then the dream becomes a reality. Eventually, the achievements of these pioneers is written in a book. This is the history of one such institution and movement, the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine.

The history of its beginning dates back to the early winter of 1898 when two men, Mason Wiley Pressly, D.O. and Oscar John Snyder, D.O., met while students at the Northern Institute of Osteopathy in Minneapolis. Dr. Pressly, a fiery Presbyterian minister, and Dr. Snyder, a science teacher, had been attracted to the science of osteopathic healing after a close relative of each one was cured by the therapy. These two men with extensively different backgrounds were united in their dedication to the new discipline of osteopathy. They shared lengthy discussions on the necessity and desirability of establishing a new osteopathic college. They chose Philadelphia for the location because of its renown in the field of healing arts - allopathic and homeopathic medicine. Philadelphia College and Infirmary of Osteopathy, as it was called, was legally incorporated on January 24, 1899, under the laws in the state of New Jersey. It opened two rented rooms, one room for teaching and clinical demonstration and the other for practice, in the Stephen Girard Building at 21 South 12th Street in the heart of Philadelphia's business and professional district. The first year class was comprised of seven students, including two of Dr. Pressly's patients. One year later, PCIO graduated its first class - one man and one woman.

The next year, with an enrollment of 11 students and more faculty, the college relocated to 12 rented rooms on the sixth floor of the new Witherspoon Building at 1321 Walnut Street. The college had five operating rooms, three laboratories next to the operating rooms, two large lecture halls, a private office and a reception room. Dr. Snyder, first president of college, put it this way, "We teach everything found in the curriculum of a reputable medical college...only the highest standards of competence and excellence should be maintained" and "there is a place for the fair sex in the practice of Osteopathy - a place as high and noble as that occupied by men." He hoped that this course was as practicable as possible, providing the didactic work and book knowledge with laboratory experimentation and the study of anatomical specimens.

Dr. Pressly became a mobile information center on Osteopathic medicine, A.T. Still's chief interpreter at Kirksville, and ASO Journal editor. He lectured nationally and lobbied for osteopathic recognition in the state of New York with author Mark Twain. He also continued to teach.

Over the years, the college changed its name twice - to Philadelphia College of Osteopathy in 1918 and to Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine in 1967 - and relocated seven times due to increased enrollment. "Build thee more stately mansions" became the campus theme until it arrived at the Moss Estate in 1957. The contributions in time and teaching effort by women graduates of PCOM became importantly evident because they enjoyed equal welcome and rights, and it followed that romance and marriage to fellow students became 'par for the ours' to a fair number. The husband-wife team in any medical field continues this day, and the bride and groom in cap and gown are the main attractions in most graduation class pictures.

In 1903, the college occupied a rented gas lit stone mansion at 33rd and Arch Streets in West Philadelphia. At the end of 1904, Dr. Snyder's discovery of a growing demand for general practitioners led him to campaign vigorously for legal recognition of the osteopathic profession in the Commonwealth of PA and throughout the country. At the same time, he pressing all students and faculty to complete the D.O. degree in two years, then three years in 1905, and ultimately in four years in 1911. This helped meet the educational requirements of allopathic and homeopathic medicine. There was plenty of opposition among the relentless allopathic physicians during the period of 1900-1920. They disliked the "new therapy" and harassed osteopathic physicians for allegedly practicing without a license. The trials resulted in dismissal of the charges or in the failure to take the accused before the judge or jury.

An "August revolution of 1905" over faculty remuneration resulted in the resignations of Drs. Pressly and Snyder, and the college was governed by the board presidents and deans until 1953. Dr. Pressly left from the college for an unknown destination and Dr. Snyder remained as a principal mentor and advocate of the college and the profession during his lifetime.

In 1906, the college occupied a commodious three story gas-lit building at 1715 North Broad Street, near Temple University.

In 1909, as a result of Dr. Snyder's lobbying efforts, the Pennsylvania Legislature granted osteopaths the license to practice and established a Board of Osteopathic Examiners. Surgery was a major disputed area of practice and the laws were amended in 1915, 1917 and 1923. But it was not until 1957 that the Pennsylvania legislation passed an unlimited Osteopathic practice act.

In 1911, the college introduced the four year program and received a hospital charter from the state, graduating the first four year class in 1912. One year later, it moved to 832 Pine Street, across from Pennsylvania Hospital, to a building that still stands today. The first osteopathic hospital to be chartered in Philadelphia was established in 1912 in a row house at 410 S. 9th Street, around the corner from the Pine Street College.

In 1916, the college raised money and purchased its first piece of property, a mansion at the corner of 19th and Spring Garden Streets, the former home of the Hon. John E. Rayburn, mayor of Philadelphia from 1907-1911. The structure was renovated to create offices, classrooms and laboratories, and added a 50 bed hospital and 150 seat surgical amphitheater. Two years later, two adjoining buildings on Spring Garden Street were purchased and used for a clinic and a nurses' housing.

When the Congress declared war on April 6th 1917, the Army Medical Corps refused to commission the 675 D.O.'s in service, mostly in medical units. At the same time, the college started a nursing school under the clouds of war, and it graduated its first class of three nurses in 1919. Women comprised almost half of the student body. The nursing school operated until 1960 when budget problems forced it to close. During 1918-1919, a severe influenza pandemic arrived in U.S. The osteopathic physicians had notable success in treating flu patients than those treated with nostrum drugs and panacea serums.

The "roaring era" of 1920's arrived. There was so much to cheer and endless excitement in the fields of sports and entertainment. The big bands and jazz orchestra kept things moving. Sports at PCOM - baseball, basketball, track, tennis and golf - were enjoyed greatly during this decade. The athletes were well conditioned and experienced, despite heavy study and clinic schedules. They were watched by major league scouts, went up against world record setters, and even played at Wimbledon. Faculty vs Student games were unforgiving on both sides, and the baseball team even received uniforms in 1920.

In 1925, Synopsis was born and the student yearbook became the glory and groaning of every third year class.

By 1928, the college again needed larger quarters and purchased land at 48th and Spruce Streets in West Philadelphia. While the period of stock market crashes and the start of the Depression was not an auspicious time to raise funds, contributions from loyal patients, friends, staff and alumni helped finance the construction of a $1 million dollar building, which housed a college, hospital, and administrative offices and served as the College's home for 45 years. The collegiate Gothic building designated by the Philadelphia Art Commission was "the most beautiful building erected in the city in 1929."

During the post war years, when students on the G.I. Bill swelled the class ranks and physicians who had built large family practices filled all available beds at 48th Street. The College purchased the former Women's Homeopathic Hospital of Philadelphia which occupied a city block at 20th Street and Susquehanna Avenue in North Philadelphia. This added 145 beds in the main hospital building, a nurses' home and a home for interns and residents.

In 1936, Dr Ira Walton Drew, a Vermont Republican jokingly ran as a dark horse independent candidate for Congress from the 7th District of Pennsylvania. He won and served a two year-term during which the Drew-Burke Bill passed, insuring national recognition and legal rights for the osteopathic profession.

The attack on Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941 shocked the Americans and took us once again to war. Sulfa drugs were introduced. Free corrective treatment for men who were rejected by the Army because of physical disabilities was offered. In June 1942, the Pennsylvania governor signed a bill authorizing the College to operate on an accelerated war time schedule. The College introduced courses on the medical aspects of war and related diseases. But, a growing shortage of doctors was a major problem. In November 1942, the U.S. Manpower Commission announced that Osteopathic physicians would be deferred from the draft where civilian need warranted. Finally in 1943, federal officials advised the College that osteopathic physicians were recognized as essential and were commissioned in the armed forces.

The year 1949 brought the 50th anniversary of the College. All rejoiced over the science of osteopathy having firmly established itself as a complete school of medicine, utilizing all recognized procedures plus its own genius.

In 1957, the College purchased the baronial 16 acre Moss Estate at City Avenue and Monument Road, the location of its present campus, a site projected to serve the needs of the expanding college well into its second century. In 1947, Dr. Frederic H. Barth, a successful proprietor and trustee, became the president of the College. In the Osteopathic digest, he wrote, "Ours will be among the most complete and modern medical teaching centers in any country, and we should be proud of the fact that Osteopathy will have attained it." The first building constructed on the site, the Hospital of PCOM, was built for the College by the General State authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The only existing building on the property, the Moss House, was renovated for the office use.

In 1962, despite the successes and increasing recognition of Osteopathy, it seemed incredible that strong opposition to it still plagued the profession. Notwithstanding the acceptance of many osteopathic principles by various segments of the medical profession, the College board urged the AOA to proceed against the AMA for "willful and damaging disparagement of the Osteopathic profession in codes and documents published by AMA," requesting removal of "the cultist designation as untrue, as totally without foundation, as a patent denial of the facts."

In 1963, the construction of the new hospital was underway. The doctor shortage in the nation grew more acute.

socialization as Medicare patients increased, and also progressive mechanization as medical technology developed.

The 250 hospital bed facility was opened in March 1968 on the Moss Estate.

In 1969, the pressures of inflation, increasing health care demands, and a nation divided over the Vietnam War brought profound changes in Americans. Renovation of the old campus was accomplished as education thrived at both locations as the 48th Street building began evolving into a public clinic and health center.

In 1970, contracts were awarded for the library and classroom building at a cost of six million dollars. Evans Hall, the college building, was completed in 1972 and dedicated and occupied in 1973. It was named in honor of H. Walter Evans, D.O., class of 1917, distinguished faculty member, professional director, professor, chairman of obstetrics and gynecology and a member of the board of trustees. He delivered 4,000 babies and started the College from the Depression crisis of 1920 with a pay as you go scheme, to which he adhered until his death in 1970. And in 1970, the rural primary health care center was opened in Laporte, PA to serve isolated areas of Appalachia.

In 1974, the first Rugby Team was organized at PCOM and captured first place in the Eastern PA Rugby Union Collegiate Tournament, that later reorganized as the Graduate School Division. Don't mess with rugged osteopathic riggers!

Completing the consolidation of the campus at City Avenue was the purchase of the five story building at 4190 City Avenue in 1977. The building was designated as the medical office building. This purchase allowed the relocation of all the college departments and permitted the sale of the old College and hospital at 48th Street. It was named Rowland Hall after Thomas M. Rowland, who had devoted himself to PCOM for 34 years.

In spring 1990, Leonard H. Finkelstein, D.O. became president and CEO, a PCOM graduate who completed internship and urology residency at PCOM. During his early presidency, he pushed to increase the number of programs offered for internship and residency. This was accomplished by acquiring Parkview hospital, a 214-bed community hospital and by joining affiliation with Germantown Hospital and St. Agnes Hospital. Dr. Finkelstein's goal was "to offer post-graduate training for our osteopathic graduates that is competitive with allopathic programs throughout the country and strengthens and expands our teaching capabilities for 3rd and 4th students."

In July 13, 1993, PCOM sold two hospitals to Graduate Health Systems. "Today all hospitals deliver health in a changing environment that makes turning a profit almost impossible... This transaction moreover signals a new beginning for PCOM - a rededication to make the College stronger and better than ever. This has enabled us to become a financially stable institution once again and has given us the freedom to channel all our energy to our educational mission."

In 1994, PCOM approved the Master Facility Plan. Herbert Lotman, our current chairman of the board, put it this way, "We have set three goals from which we will not be distracted: to achieve the highest scholastic ratings for curriculum and faculty, to improve campus facilities for our academic and common life, and to graduate physicians prepared to meet the changing health care needs of this nation's increasingly diverse population."

PCOM's reputation as the nation's finest osteopathic institution and one of the country's finest medical schools continues as it celebrates a century of challenges and transforms its campus facilities to support the individual development of physicians and encourage the development of its academic and social community. We are a proud institution and a proud profession.

Messages from the Office of the President and the Office of the Dean

PCOM PHILADELPHIA COLLEGE OF OSTEOPATHIC MEDICINE

Leonard H. Finkelstein, D.O.
President and Chief Executive Officer

June, 1996

Dear Colleagues:

Change is the theme of your yearbook and never have the changes in the delivery of health care been more rapid and profound than they are in your time. Some see the conversion to managed care as having a negative impact to the practice of medicine. I see the future as an opportunity for you as osteopathic physicians to lead the way. PCOM has provided you with clinical training in the ambulatory setting far and above that which your allopathic counterparts have received. This plus the osteopathic philosophy regarding the maintenance of health and the prevention of disease will serve you well.

The changes you have witnessed on campus will continue. Those of you who remain with us for your graduate osteopathic education will see the completion of the Master Facility Plan. Those of you who leave are always welcome back to a campus that I am sure will make you proud. Through our ongoing strategic plan, changes in curriculum and improvements in clinical rotations will continue. I expect the future development of our medical informatic systems will enable your college to work with you throughout the continuing education process.

Congratulations upon receiving your Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine degree as part of Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine's 105th class. You are beginning your career at a very exciting time, with the practice of medicine changing almost on a daily basis. I believe that the members of the Class of 1996 will make a positive impact on the osteopathic profession and the delivery of health care. Whatever the future holds, PCOM remains supportive and here to assist you in achieving your goals.

Fraternally,

Leonard H. Finkelstein, D.O.,

PCOM PHILADELPHIA COLLEGE OF OSTEOPATHIC MEDICINE

Kenneth J. Velt, D.O., M.B.A.
Dean of the College

Dear Colleagues:

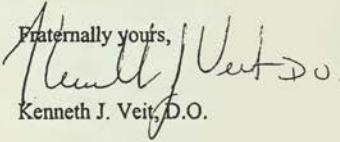

Congratulations to your class, the Class of 1996, as you receive your D.O. degree. You have completed a demanding and rigorous four years of osteopathic medical education. Each of you can attest to personal sacrifices and hard work required in order to achieve your goal of becoming a physician.

Indeed this milestone is just the beginning of a life long adventure in the care and benefit of others. Someone once said that people in this world put on a tremendous show, and doctors have a front row seat. Enjoy it to the fullest, for you have been given a unique opportunity. As Albert Schweitzer once stated "It is our duty to remember at all times and anew that medicine is not only a science, but also the art of letting our own individuality interact with the individuality of the patient". A true physician is a scientific scholar of human biology who must practice his profession as a perceptive humanist.

Please remember your Alma Mater with fond regards. Continue to nurture the interpersonal relationships you have with your fellow classmates and teachers. These relationships will serve you well in the future.

Best wishes to each of you as you now pursue your next professional goal. May you be blessed with good health and a sense of well being.

Fraternally yours,

Kenneth J. Velt, D.O.

Synapsis 1996 recognizes
Dr. Robert Fogel
for the extraordinary role
he played in our education and training

Born and raised in Philadelphia, Dr Fogel graduated from PCOM in 1958. He performed one year of internship at Oklahoma City Osteopathic Hospital and two years of family practice residency at Mannford, OK., a small town of six hundred people. Dr. Fogel decided to become a pathologist to learn more about the various kinds of diseases. Therefore, he went to Detroit Osteopathic Hospital for a pathology residency. Upon completion of his residency, he started work at Oklahoma Regional Medical Center, and in 1965, he became Director of Laboratories and Chief Pathologist. During that time, he raised cattle and built wooden furniture as a hobby. In 1984, he moved to New Jersey where he currently serves as Professor and Chairman of Pathology at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey/School of Osteopathic Medicine. Dr. Fogel is also Professor of Pathology at PCOM and has taught here since 1993.

Before the beginning of Fall Semester 1993, PCOM and the class of 1996 needed a change of pathology curriculum and the presence of a good, effective instructor. Prior his arrival at PCOM, Part I NBOME pathology scores had fallen. After one year of teaching at our campus, the average board score for pathology improved tremendously. The class of 1996 and the rest of the student body are very grateful for his instruction in pathology at PCOM campus. Thank you Dr. Fogel for doing this wonderful job.

*We can't know why the lily has so brief
a time to bloom
in the warmth of sunlight's kiss
upon its face.*

*Before it folds its fragrance in and bids the world good-night to rest its beauty in a gentler place.
But we can know that nothing that is loved is ever lost, and no one who has ever touched a heart
Can really pass away, because some beauty lingers on in each memory of which they've been a part.*

HIPPOCRATIC OATH

I swear by Apollo Physician and Asclepios and Hygieia and Panacea and all the Gods and Goddesses, making them my witnesses, that I will fulfill according to my ability and judgement this oath and covenant:

To hold him who has taught me this art equal to my parents and to live my life in partnership with him, and if he is in need of money to give him a share of mine, and to regard his offspring as equal to my brothers in male lineage and to teach them this art - if they desire to learn it - without fee and covenant; to give a share of precepts and oral instruction and all the other learning to my sons and the sons of him who has instructed me and to pupils who have signed the covenant and have taken an oath according to the medical law, but to no one else.

I will apply dietetic measures for the benefit of the sick according to my ability and judgement; I will keep them from harm and injustice.

I will neither give a deadly drug to anybody if asked for it, nor will I make a suggestion to this effect. Similarly, I will not give to a woman an abortive remedy. In purity and holiness I will guard my life and my art.

I will not use the knife, not even on sufferers of the stone, but will withdraw in favor of such men as are engaged in this work.

Whatever houses I may visit, I will come for the benefit of the sick, remaining free of all intentional injustice, of all mischief, and in particular of sexual relations with both female and male person, be they free or slaves.

What I may see or hear in the course of treatment or even outside the treatment in regard to the life of men, which on no account one must spread abroad, I will keep to myself, holding such things shameful to be spoken about.

If I fulfill this oath and do not violate it, may I be granted to me to enjoy life and art being honored with fame among all men for all time to come; If I transgress it and swear falsely, may the opposite of all this be my lot.

OSTEOPATHIC OATH

I do hereby affirm my loyalty to the profession I am about to enter.

I will be mindful always of my great responsibility to preserve the health and life of patients, to retain their confidence and to respect both as a physician and a friend who will guard their secrets with scrupulous honor and fidelity, to perform faithfully my professional duties. To employ only those methods of treatment consistent with good judgement and with my skill and ability, keeping in mind nature's laws and the body's inherent capacity for recovery.

I will be ever vigilant in aiding in the general welfare of the community, sustaining its laws and institutions, not engaging in those practices which will in any way bring shame or discredit upon myself or my profession. I will give no drugs for deadly purposes to any person, though it may be asked of me.

I will endeavor to work in accord with my colleagues in a spirit of progressive cooperation, and will never by word or act cast imputations upon them of their rightful practices.

I will look with respect and esteem upon all those who taught me my art. To my college I will be loyal and strive always for its best interests and for the interests of the students who will come after me. I will be ever alert to further application of basic biologic truths to the healing arts and to develop the principles of osteopathy which were first initiated by Andrew Taylor Still.

Yes!

I am pleased to inform you that your application for admission to Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine for the class entering in August 1992 has been favorably acted upon by the Faculty Committee on Admissions. Congratulations upon your acceptance.

You have now taken the first step of your career in osteopathic medicine and have therefore assumed certain responsibilities. Your personal and professional life must reflect the highest standards of moral integrity and professional dedication. In addition, your immediate responsibility is that of maintaining a high level of academic accomplishment. Should you, for whatever reason, fail to maintain high standards in all areas, your acceptance will be automatically withdrawn.

To confirm your place in the Class of 1996, a prepayment of $500 must be received by May 1, 1992. This is a non-refundable payment and will be applied to your tuition for the Fall Term of 1992.

You are now about to prepare yourself for a career of public service and public trust as an osteopathic physician, a career which will bring you great satisfaction. Again, our congratulations to you. We look forward to welcoming you.

Very truly yours,

Carol A. Fox

During the time I have spent here, at PCOM, I have discovered three things that have become very important to me: God, my wife and my friends from PCOM. With all three I have grown and developed a strong bond. To all three I say, "Thank you, for the sacrifices, advise and strength that has brought me this far. I cannot fail with your encouragement."

"O Divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console; to be understood, as to understand..." - St. Francis of Assisi

There are times when one must set aside fear and complacency, overcome obstacles and press through to realize one's dreams. With the help of those who've gone before, we've done just that. In doing so we are assured no regrets. We now have the privilege of reaching back to share our knowledge, wisdom and experience with those who've chosen the same path.

Our class has felt a spectrum of intense emotions during our four years together. Yet, we have been made better persons, thereby, better physicians. Let all of our negative experiences serve to make us stronger, empathetic and wiser individuals and let all of our positive experiences motivate us to be caring and confident physicians in a world much in need.

To my friends and family, thank you for your loving support and patience. A warm thank you to those who've gone before for not just throwing a ladder to me but reaching down to pull me up. Thank you God for your faithfulness towards me. Finally, my deepest gratitude to my husband David for ever being my champion.

"Whatever the struggle continue the climb

It may be only one step to the summit." - Maugham

if one advances confidently in the direction of his dreams, and endeavors to live the life which he has imagined, he will meet with a success unexpected in common hours. He will pass an invisible boundary; new, universal and more liberal laws will begin to establish themselves around and within him; and he will live with the license of a higher order of being.

in proportion, as he simplifies his life, the laws of the universe will appear less complex...if you have built castles in the air, your work need not be lost; that is where they should be. now put the foundations under them.

...such is the character of that morrow which mere lapse of time can never make to dawn.

"As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men."

- Galatians 6:10

Sometimes the path to a goal is filled with obstacles, false starts, and setbacks. Succeeding in the face of these challenges builds character and makes the victory sweeter.

The people on this page were my safety net during my roundabout journey to and through medical school. My mother and grandmother believed in me when I had little faith in myself. They were there to pick me up and brush me off every time I stumbled and fell. My wife Judy will always be my best friend. Her love, prayers, and faith in me kept me strong in the most difficult times. I hope that someday my daughter Allison will know just how much she helped me in reaching my goal. Her unconditional love, wit, charm, and honesty kept me focused on my goal. She is the best playmate and study partner I ever had.

There are many more people that I would love to thank. Family, friends, co-workers, and many others played a huge role in my success. Their thoughts, prayers, and help are greatly appreciated.

A letter to my patients:

I am your doctor, as well as your companion, your advisor and your friend.

My job as your physician, at it's simplest level, is to treat or prevent any illness appropriately with the best therapy available.

The foundation of that treatment shall stem from my training in medical school. You as my patients, however, shall be my best teachers. I will learn how best to treat you as an individual, you shall be my textbook. With whatever training, experience, and confidence that I may draw upon, it shall be you who will hone this ability.

It is my promise to you that I shall do everything in my power to diagnose, understand, and treat whatever illness you may have, whether it be physical, emotional, or otherwise.

I can only help you to the extent you want to help yourself, and it shall be a team effort, the doctor-patient relationship can be a strong weapon against the adversity of life.

An old proverb;

Knowledge is a treasure but practice is the key to it.

In advance, I thank you for your confidence and your patience. I sincerely look forward to being your doctor.

Another chapter in my life has been written. So far it has been the longest and hardest to finish, but it all ends on this page, with the pinnacle of my dream, my medical school graduation. The following people have made this chapter in my life possible, and I would like to thank them:

God: For a straight path and a light.

Dad and Mom: For support, guidance, and financial aid. No one could ask for a better set of parents. I will always love and be grateful to you. I hope I will always make you proud.

Stephen, my brother: For laughter. You made me smile through it all.

Gram and Gramps: Thank you for your support and love.

To my Dad and Aunt: You are my mentors. I hope to become as good of a physician as you are. I'm glad I was able to keep the PCOM tradition alive.

To my friends in the class of 1996: We have all accomplished a great goal. Thank you for all of the memories. Good luck to all of you. And last but not least, to the many doctors who have taught me. I stand up and applaud you.

I would like to take this time to thank everyone who has made this day possible for me, especially my family, my wife and my beautiful daughter. Your love and support was the constant driving force behind me, through the good and bad times, over the past four years. Without it, I could not be where I am today. I am forever thankful.

JEN: The past four years have been an incredible challenge on both of us. Throughout those years you have given me your unconditional love and support. You believed in me and encouraged me when I no longer believed in myself, and in the past year, you have given me the greatest joy of my life, our beautiful daughter. My words alone cannot express how thankful I am to have you in my life. You are the love of my life, my best friend and an inspiration. I will always love you.

TAYLOR: You have changed my life forever. You bring joy and happiness to my life with every laugh and smile. Daddy loves you!

MOM and DAD: Thank you for all your love and support over the many years of my never ending education. I owe my success today to both of you. I love you very much.

A sincere "thank you" to all those who have helped to make my dream come true:

- God, the Giver of all good things, for making this day possible.
- St. Therese, my patron saint, for answering my every prayer.
- Mom, whose idealism and compassion for others has made me what I am today. I could never have succeeded without your continuous encouragement and financial support throughout my life.
- Michele, the best sister I could ever have. I know you have made many sacrifices for me. You are a truly dedicated nurse, and I am so proud of you.
- Carl, you have been a great step-father to me. You were always there when I needed you.
- John, thank you for being a great friend.
- My teachers at Lacey Township, my instructors at Villanova, and all my professors at PCOM, who have placed me on the right path and guided me to reach my destination.
- Finally, Mom, now you can say, "My daughter, the doctor!"

A Healer engaged on this pilgrimage fair
Without reservation for he did not care
For those who suffered vainglory
As they appeared to be utmost holy.
Rather, he nurtured the poor and lame.
Black or white, all created the same
In His image. No tithe was required
For services willingly sired.
He fathomed his reward would be Manifested by his destiny.

Man of great faith, master of innocence
Accomplishing endeavors with the credence,
"TO THINE OWN SELF BE TRUE!" as was told
By the sovereignty of birthright bestowed,
His Mother.
Woman of substance, knowledge and compassion
A noble youth she did fashion
For his accreditations were revered
As reflections of her love made clear.

Familial support was a constant bolster
From his sister, Leann, a few years older.
Protecting her younger sibling from harm,
He admired her uncanny charm
Of evoking pleasantries from the emotionally blind
Strong is her name, gentle and kind.

His quest for knowledge was equally laden
By a beautiful and fair maiden, Therese.
Appreciating her friendship so rare,
Cherishing the memories and stresses shared
And wherever her path may lead,
His wish for her be Godspeed.

So what magic will this Healer do
For all the troubled in mind and body who Seek a remedy to cease their inhibition
From this humble neophyte Physician?
Inspired by his grandmother's belief -
The ultimate cure is inner peace.

My Family and Friends,

You are all in some aspect people who continue to inspire and fill me with energy. Sherri, I love you as much as life itself. I look forward to spending every second with you. Mom, you have never let me feel lonely. You have always made me feel loved. I will treasure, always, the bond we have. Dad, you have been my backbone when I have lost mine. When I need a hero and someone to look up to, you are there. David, my brother, each year that goes by, I feel blessed to have a friend like you. Grandmom and Grandpop, your wisdom and spice for life are an incredible source of inspiration to me. Marijane and Erwin, you accept and care for me as if I am one of your own. Bob, you are a source of happiness and encouragement. Peter, you are a second brother to me. Isaac, your support is invaluable. Steve, you have been my companion in medical school and have made this time more than memorable. This achievement is not mine alone, it is a result of the continued support and inspiration that all of you have given.

Mom and Dad: Thank you so much for all of your love and support. Without you, none of my success would have been possible. You two are the world's greatest parents! You are also the best teachers I ever had. You taught me the meaning of responsibility, respect and compassion, as well as the value of education and hard work. Without your guidance I could have never done this! I love you both!

My Family: Thanks for all your support and encouragement, and for always asking "how's school?"

My Friends: Good Luck...have fun...and don't work too hard!

Jill: To my beautiful wife...

I can not thank you enough for all of your love, support, and confidence. You are my best friend and the love of my life. Your love and laughter remind me that medicine is my career, but you are my life! I can't wait to spend forever with you!

To my Mother, Alice D. Benson (Big Al): Who's financial support, patience, and most of all, undying love and dedication to "our" goal has made this day possible. I would not be here today without your insight and understanding of the sacrifice, challenge and immeasurable satisfaction a career in medicine brings. It is time now for us to enjoy the fruit from the tree that we planted together many years ago. You will never be alone and I will always be by your side. I LOVE YOU MOM!!

To my Father, Francis T. Benson Sr. (October 11, 1927- March 21, 1995): "Daddy-O" & "Chief", On this very special day you are in my thoughts, movements and feelings. You will be an intimate part of everyday of my career and the rest of my life. I miss you very much. Golf just isn't the same without you. I LOVE YOU DAD!!

To my Family, Frank, John, Tom, Matt, Judith, Lisa & Anna: You better be laughing because I still can't believe they let me in med-school let alone give me a degree. Maybe all of you should apply. Today is a day that all of us celebrate. All of you have been apart of the road I've chosen. Thank you for the help, I LOVE YOU ALL!!

Lisa: Thanks so much for the room at white street, I'll be here for you.

Tom & Nancy: Thanks for the loans, you never said "No". I Love You Both very much (Kevin & Sandy too). Tom, you are a Best Friend and our best times are ahead. Golf & Dr. Dolans.

Frank & Carolyn: You need two degree's with the tribe you have now. Thanks for all the help with school. Frank, thanks for teaching me insight and to be patient and to look at the "long term benefits". You are a Best Friend and our best times are ahead. Golf & Dr. D's. Zinc Oxide lives on!

To my family and friends,

I haven't the space nor words necessary to thank you properly. You have been there for me through "thick and thin" and seen me at my best and worst, yet you are still there for me... How could I thank you enough, tell you that I love you, or even begin to say how much it all means to me in 200 words or less?? Impossible... except to say thank you and that I wouldn't be here, doing what I love best, if it were not for my family and friends...

Thank you Mom for all of your encouragement and support. When life was difficult, you provided words of wisdom. When life was sad, you provided hugs. When life was wonderful, you were the source of the happiness. I could not have made it without you.

Thank you Dave for your unconditional love and understanding. I may not have written often, but you were always in my thoughts. You have been the source of many happy moments in my life. I have missed you greatly these past few years; but I know that Thailand has benefited immensely from your creativity and knowledge. You are truly a wonderful person.

Thank you Denise for your encouragement, especially during first and second year. Congratulations on your Ph.D.. It has been a long, hard road for the two of us in many ways. Let peace and love prevail.

Thank you Linda for teaching me the meaning of a true friend. We have had some great experiences together. May there be many more.

Thank you God for the beautiful ocean, which sings sweet songs to rock my soul.

IN THE NAME OF GOD

I guess it is about time for me to be done with school. Now that I am done, it is appropriate to remember those who helped me get here. Many thousands of thanks to my parents who with courage and without hesitation devoted their lives to my brothers and I, by coming to this country so that we could have a home away from home and continue our education. To my wife, my everlasting love and devotion. You gave me strength when I was weak. You were always there when I needed help, and I shall do the same for you. To my brothers who encouraged me and supported me through out these years, without the two of you I would not have made it here. Now you are on your own !!! Just Kidding.

My sincerest thanks to all my teachers, professors and mentors who from elementary school through medical school taught me to the best of their abilities. I am forever in your debt.

And to all my friends at PCOM. I am glad I had a chance to meet you and to work with you. And although it's been fun I'm glad I don't have to do it again.

RISKS

"To laugh is to risk appearing the fool. To weep is to risk appearing sentimental. To reach out for another is to risk involvement. To expose feelings is to risk exposing your true self. To place your ideas, your dreams, before a crowd is to risk their loss. To love is to risk despair, to try is to risk failure.

But risks must be taken, because the greatest hazard in life is to risk nothing. The person who risks nothing, does nothing, has nothing, and is nothing. They may avoid suffering and sorrow, but they cannot learn, feel, change, grow, love, live. Only a person who risks is free."

There are too many people to thank individually, but my dear parents and rest of my family and friends know that they must take most of the thanks. I was fortunate enough to have a lot of support along the way, which made my life easier compared to some. Most of all I give credit to GOD for all that has been given to me.

Bubbie - to whom I dedicate this page

I suppose as time passes on, the pain of your loss fades and the wonderful memories become more vivid: always a smile; a love that was unconditional; caring and understanding, endless. Your strength, courage, and will to live life to its fullest gave me the motivation to achieve my dream. Your attributes have become a part of my life and future. Thanks, Bubbie! Your Shana Punim did it!

My mother, my friend - From my carousel cake, to Massadah, to the largest mountain I've had to climb in my life... you've always been there for me. You've taught me: "Always look at the positive." & "Believe in yourself." Thank you for your years of encouragement, love, and sacrifices you made to help me reach the top of that mountain.

Dr. Jeck - You have been an integral part of making my dream become a reality. You have given me constant encouragement. You are my teacher, mentor and a very special person in my life. The only way I can begin to thank you is: "Your adopted daughter did it!"

My lover, my friend - You've helped me through three difficult, aggravating, yet most exciting years of my life. Your laughter, love, and patience helped me along this long road I've chosen. Knowing you are by my side gives me the strength and ease I need to continue. I love you to the moon and back Schwartz!

"Carpe Diem!"

Little did I know when leaving airport management, that my life's motto: "Carpe Diem" would take on indescribable dimensions. Coursing through pre-med at Harvard and then medical school at PCOM, I heard that motto used time and again by my friends to support and challenge.

"Seize the Day!" Chuck Gibson echoed back to me (as I agonized whether or not to abandon an established career and fulfill my childhood calling). "Carpe Diem!" Steve Lloyd and David Bell repeated as I plodded through the academic obstacles. "Today is a new day" as my wife - Jan, and then my Mom, Ward and Stephen continually reminded.

Yes, today is a new day. A day that has been seized. A day that the Lord has made. I will rejoice and be glad in it.

To my Mom and Dad - We've finally made it! The high phone bills, 6 a.m. coffee chats, and cards from the money fairy have paid off. I want to thank you for your encouragement and unconditional love, if not for you I would not be where I am today. I love you.

To my sisters - Well, your baby sister is finally a doctor. Can you believe I'm actually going to have a job? I want to thank all of you for always being here for me, when I get my house with the guest wing you can all come visit!

To my nieces - You will never know how much I love you and what an inspiration you have been to me. When I forget why I went into medicine, all I have to do is think of all of you and I remember. Always stay as sweet and wonderful as you are.

To my friends - Thank you all for always putting up with me. I know at times I can be difficult. My drinking buddies (You know who you are)- My liver and I are going to miss you. Debbie - Thanks for keeping me in line or at least trying. Mary - What can I say? You make me laugh and cry...I'm gonna miss you. Rose,

I could have never made it without your love, support, encouragement and sacrifice. You believed in me when I didn't believe in myself. Thank you for your patience with me over the last four years. I am looking forward to our future together.

I love you,

Four years ago I accepted the challenge to become a physician. Today that challenge has been met through dedication, hard work and patience from myself and my family. As with all accomplishments come pride, self-satisfaction, and congratulations for the individual. He or she will always be "listed in the rolls" or possess the document of their successful completion. It is unfortunate that there is often no such listing or document for the families or spouses who through their support over the years have also made this day possible. From my mother and father I learned love, compassion, and the self-satisfaction of an "honest day's work." My children, Maggie and Paul, have taught me the importance of fatherhood regardless of occupation or status. My wife, Cynthia, has taught me the importance of "smelling the roses" along the way and the meaning of unconditional love and support.

It is my wish that this short statement serve as the document that these people will forever be "listed on the rolls" in my heart for their love and support of me on this graduation day.

I'd like to thank all those who've helped me immensely over the years:

To God, for all you've done for my family and myself. Thank you for granting me the opportunity to become a physician and surrounding me with caring family and friends throughout my life.

To my Mom, Dad, and sisters Dawn and Dianna, for the endless love, unwavering support, and great laughs you've given me over the years. Thank you for the inspiration you've always provided many ways in which you may not even realize. I love you all very much. To the rest of my family, for their love and encouragement. I'm thankful for the times we've shared together in the past and I look forward to many more in the future.

To the Bielots, for all you gave and did for me at Navy and beyond. Your kindness, generosity, and love have and will always serve as an example to me.

To my Pop-Pop, George Cute, for your love and interest. Thanks for coming to all the games and everything else. We miss you very much.

To my friends, for making all the years worthwhile. I wish you all success and happiness in the years ahead.

Wow. Here I am... at a point in my career which seemed all so insurmountable just a few years ago. The horror stories that I heard about medical school, well they're all true! Yet somehow when I was actually going through it, it wasn't so bad. And now, I still bewildered by the fact that people are soon going to be calling me "doctor."

I didn't want to do the typical thanks to everyone, but to my Mom... If it weren't for you, I'd never had the courage or the strength to do any of what I've accomplished. You have always believed in me. You're my best friend. I love you.

Grama and Grampa ... There are so many precious memories we share, I couldn't begin to recount them. You both know how very much I love you.

To the rest of my family... All medical advice is free of charge!! Thank you for believing in me, and God bless us all!!

Mom & Dad: I don't know how to thank the two people who gave me the strength, support and work ethic which is responsible for my success. All I can say is that of twenty years of educators, you were the best. I love you and am blessed to have you as parents.

Dan & Matt: My brothers and best friends, thanks for the support and encouragement. I know that we will always be there for each other. Hopefully, we will all be able to spend more time together in the near future.

PCOM Friends: Well, we did it! Our careers brought us together, but our interests made us friends. Congratulations, and the best of luck. Gabe, Chris, Dan, Pat (and sometimes Kyle) - it was a great house. I'll see you all at the annual AOA conventions for a cold one! Stupid cow...

"Until you are committed, there is hesitancy, the chance to draw back, always ineffectiveness, concerning all acts of initiative (and creation). There is one elementary truth, the ignorance of which kills countless ideas and splendid plans:

The moment you definitely commit yourself, then providence moves, too.

All sorts of things occur to help you that would never otherwise have occurred. A whole stream of events issues from the decision, raising in your favor all manner of unforeseen incidents and meetings and material assistance, which no one could have dreamed would have come your way.

I guess it is time to get a real job. No more procrastinating. Twenty years of school, done. Finally!

First and foremost I must thank my parents. They have put up with my, shall we say, antics showing nothing but unwavering patience, guidance, support and love. Dad, you are my inspiration. I have always wanted to be just like Doctor Elber. Now I have the title. That was the easy part. The rest is another story.

Bec, Larry, Steven, Jon, Renae, Dylan-the rookie, Aunt Rhoda and Uncle Murray, Cindy, and Uncle Howard - my family. You have always been the center of my life. I would not be who I am without all of you. (This is starting to sound like a Bar-Mitzvah speech..."Dear parents, family, and honored guests.")

These past four years, my life has been in a constant state of flux. Without my friends, I would not be leaving Philadelphia in one piece. They brought sanity to the madness and when necessary, madness to everything else. Jones(-berg) - since the dead guy, you have always been there. A better friend I could not ask for.

For me, becoming a physician is the fulfillment of a lifelong dream and, as I stand on the threshold of realizing my dream, I wish to express my deepest appreciation and love for all those who were there to encourage and support me through my long journey.

To my Mom and Dad: who can remember me talking about becoming a doctor as soon as I could speak, and who never doubted that someday I'd make it.

To my brothers and sisters - Roger, Steve, Linda, Laura, Sue and Jim: who always listened when I spoke of my hopes and dreams and never belittled or criticized them.

To all my friends: who I have worked, laughed, and cried with through the years. These are the people to whom I owe the greatest debt, because they have helped and guided me toward my goal; as well as being just friends in good times and in bad.

To Marcus Welby, Joseph Gannon, Kelly Brackett, Joe Earley, Johnny Gage, Roy DeSoto, Dixie McCall, Dr. Kildare and Ben Casey: who also served to inspire me.

And lastly, to anyone else I might have forgotten to mention -- thank you.

I would like to thank many people for helping me achieve this goal:

MOM: You are the most wonderful woman in the world. Thank you for giving birth to me (even though you let them use forceps). I don't know how you persevered and stayed so strong throughout the past seven years. If not for your strength, my life would be a shambles.

WAYNE: "The Pain." You have been a source of inspiration and a great friend throughout my entire life. Your sharp wit and intelligence (as well as your stunning good looks) have always given me a goal to strive for.

SARI: My little sissey. I cannot wait for the day when I can also call you "Doctor." Not to sound like "Big Brother," but I am very proud of you. You have always been one of a kind, very original, and always friendly and outgoing. I would like to take full responsibility for your great personality.

The Christian Physician's Oath

With gratitude to God, faith in Christ Jesus, and dependence on the Holy Spirit, I publicly profess my intent to practice medicine for the glory of God.

With humility, I will seek to increase my skills. I will respect those who teach me and who broaden my knowledge. In turn, I will freely impart my knowledge and wisdom to others.

With God's help, I will love those who come to me for healing and comfort. I will honor and care for each patient as a person made in the image of God, putting aside selfish interests.

With God's guidance, I will endeavor to be a good steward of my skills and of society's resources. I will convey God's love in my relationships with family, friends, and community. I will aspire to reflect God's mercy in caring for the lonely, the poor, the suffering, and the dying.

With God's blessing, I will respect the sanctity of human life. I will care for all my patients, rejecting those interventions which either intentionally destroy or actively end the lives of the unborn, the infirm, and the terminally ill.

With God's grace, I will live according to this profession.

To my parents, my eternal love and gratitude could not adequately be expressed in the confines of this page. All your love and sacrifices have strengthened me through the most challenging and exciting portion of my life. In a journey where uncertainty and anxiety shadowed every turn, you remained unwavering in faith, vigilant in spirit, and abundant with love. You are forever in my heart.

To my siblings, the time we have spent together over the last couple of years has been limited, yet priceless. Your continued encouragement and support will never be forgotten. I am certain the future will find us all together again, with many more enjoyable times to be shared and memories to be embedded with the laughter and love of our perpetual camaraderie.

To my friends, our moments together will forever be cherished. I cannot imagine any of the extraordinary adventures that we have undertaken blunted by the ebb and flow of time. Thank you for the laughter. Thank you for my sanity.

These past four years have been like a childhood Christmas morning everyday. My education superb, one I am privileged to receive. Foremost, my loudest thank you to my parents for raising me properly and teaching me responsibility, discipline, and encouraging success without boundaries. Special thanks to my father for giving me the gift of thirsting for knowledge and understanding, and to my mother for all her strength. Michelle and Rob, keep up the journey - you'll find your way. The support of my friends: Sue, Cheryl, Lori, Lisa, Erinn, Bridget, Donna, Beth, Rox, Jay, Donna and Bren (in no particular order), for guidance and support along the way. I had heard the friendships of a lifetime will be made in medical school. I know now this is true. Suzanna, in mere years we have had a lifetime of friendship - thank you. Debbie: You have always believed this was possible even when I had my doubts. I would have never made this life long dream a reality if it had not been for you. You are my best friend, lover and wife. I cherish you.

Mike, Trevor, and Sam: My three sons. I am so very proud of you. I hope that the sacrifices we have made as a family have taught you that it is never too late, you are never too old and it is never too hard to achieve your dreams.

Dad: I know how much you wanted to be at my graduation. Your spirit has been with me every day since your passing. Every success I ever have I owe to you. I'm very proud of you and I love you very much, you were the best Dad in the world.

Mom: Thanks for everything. I could never thank you enough for everything you've done. Your the best.

Classmates and Friends: I have enjoyed the last four years with you. You are a very special group of people. I am honored to be one of you.

Mom and Dad- Ever since I was a little girl, I have always said "I want to be a doctor when I grow up." Well, here I am. I did it!! You instilled me with the confidence to "Shoot for the stars", and constantly provided your love and encouragement. You taught me to believe in myself and my abilities, never once doubting them yourselves. You made me realize how lucky and privileged I am to have achieved such a great accomplishment... becoming a doctor. Most importantly, you gave me the independence and freedom to make my own decisions in life. All I can say is "THANK YOU" for all the many sacrifices you have made in your lives, so that mine could be so rich! I love you both.

Babcia- Dziękuję za twoje moralne poparcie i wiare we mnie. Przez długie lata, Babcia czekała abym wreszcie szkołę skończyła. Prawda że długa, ale teraz możesz mówić że moja wnuczka jest "Doktorem"!

To my Aunts, Uncles and Cousins- You have all been so very supportive, always giving me encouragement. Thank you so much. Hey... we finally have a Doctor in the family. Professional courtesy for all!

To my Friends and Classmates at PCOM- We finally made it! Best of luck to all of you.

Nat- You are the best roomie! Thanks for being such a great friend. I'm sure gonna miss our "Khalua and Cream" binges. Your going to make a great doc!

Dearon- From the moment we first met, I knew in my heart that you would become a very special part of my life. So many great memories have been made over these past four years. Thank you for your friendship, love and support. I am the luckiest woman to have met such a fine man, one who I admire for his strength and perseverance. Pook, you are my best friend! We made it together! Here's to a beautiful future.

The best is yet to come!

Well, Here goes ... after four years of dealing with them every day, here is what the descriptions of the administration would look like if I wrote the catalog.

Carol Fox - aka the one to whom you owe your first born; down to earth, always accessible.

Take her to AC because she knows how to pick' em

Hank Tomkiso - aka the guy watering the plants; underestimated by the slugs who never participate in anything, worshiped by those who do. RELIABLE.

Dr. Cuzolino - aka "the cuz"; knows more about scantrons than those geriatric proctors, longest ball on campus (yes John Carlin even longer than you)

Dr. Farrell - aka too sweet for the job; you will never find a more caring physician, has too much love for people to be sitting in an office. NEVER let her paint your office!!!

Danielle - aka "a date"; puts up with more shit than anyone, she'll kick your ass too! You'll owe her sooner or later. Favorite line: you'll have to ask Dr. Farrell.

Ruth - aka the travel agent; you'll never meet someone more prepared and organized. Ask her about Zimbabwe. Bring her your resume to proofread, she loves it.

Hale - aka the man who knows everyone; always pleasant, loves to donate cash to Student Council, adored by his secretaries; throws one hell of a party; CZ in SF.

Dr. Finkelstein - aka "the prez"; outside, never lets his "official" guard down, inside, is a man who is continually trying to show his love and dedication to PCOM.

Herb Lotman - aka HERB; hates to take the credit, loves to give it, unselfish, never underestimate, always shakes his hand firmly; if he has his heavenly seven, run!

Dr. Yeit - aka "the DEAN"; never gets involved in politics, ALWAYS looking out for the students, takes his work home type of guy, family man, friend.

Matthew C. Haley D.O.

My heartfelt thanks to the aforementioned, for without their help and support, I would have fallen far short of my goals. I will miss you all. Patty, your coffee got me going every morning, your smile kept me going, and our memories will keep me going. To my friends the times are gone but the memories not forgotten. Remember everything you learned from me, so you don't make the same mistakes. Aaron and Curtis, NEVER let anyone hold you back from reaching your goals. Mom and Dad, medical school would have never been a reality if it weren't for your support, discipline (and money). Thank you; you will always be in my thoughts and prayers. Louise, at first you were an infatuation, and now you are a reality. The lord never knew one of his sons could love one of his daughters so much. Thanks for putting up with me. IWLYF.

Dear Mom and Dad: There are no words to thank you for the many sacrifices you have made to get me to where I am today. Your support, guidance, inspiration, and love have enabled me to fulfill all of my dreams. This success belongs to all of us. I love you with all of my heart.

Αγαπημένη μου γαρία: Σου ευχαριστώ που ήσουν πάντα κοντά μου να με δίνει κουράγιο και δύναμη. Με την αγάπη και την στήριξη σου μπορέσα να τελειώσω τα ονείρα μου. Σου αγαπώ με όλη μου την καρδιά.

Dear Chrissy: Thank you for your endless support and constant advice. I couldn't ask for a greater sister. Can you believe it: a doctor and a lawyer! We are now unstoppable as long as we stick together! Here's to many more successes in the future!

TO MY FAMILY: Thank you for your love and support throughout this incredibly long journey, I couldn't have done it without you. Mom and Dad, I know how much you sacrificed for me to fulfill my dreams and words alone cannot possibly describe how much I appreciate it. You are the best parents anyone could ask for. I promise that I will always be there when you need me (and even when you don't).

TO THE WEINER FAMILY: Who knew that when I fell in love with your daughter that she came with such a wonderful family. You are more than just my "in-laws," you are my friends; and that means a lot to me. Thank you for welcoming me into your family.

HOPE: You fell in love with me when I was at the lowest point in my life. You have supported me in everything that I have ever wanted and given me dreams of a future so bright that it hurts to think about it. You are my best friend and my true companion and I hope that I will make your wildest dreams come true. I will love you for the rest of my life.

As I approach and pass another milestone in the many journeys of my life, I marvel, in retrospect, at the awesome and wonderful privilege of attending medical school. The years were filled with some wonderful highs, some bad lows, a fair amount of tears and frustration, but much laughter throughout. The biggest joy in my journey, my top priority, is my best friend and husband, Bren. I do not know where I would have found the inner strength and courage without many, many hours of "counseling," his tireless support, and endless encouragement.

I am thankful for the many great friends I have found at PCOM, proud to know each, and think of them as colleagues and confidantes. I am also thankful for the support of my family and friends and their confidence in my abilities. Each piece of encouragement has been a stepping stone.

I look to our future with excitement and anticipation. I am very proud to be stepping forth as a physician, proud to be a graduate of PCOM, and proud of the personal growth I have achieved over the past four years.

"How does one become a good doctor? ... As I understand it, a good doctor is one who is shrewd in diagnosis and wise in treatment; but, more than that, he is a person who never spares himself in the interest of his patients; and, in addition, he is a man who studies the patient not only as a case but also as an individual... The good doctor, whether general practitioner or specialist, is also a man who studies the patient's personality as well as his disease."

THE TRAVELER

I have been traveling for a long time on a challenging path to reach this point where I now look back to see the great amount of distance covered. I thank God for the ground I have since walked upon and for giving me the ability to continue to strive on. I thank my family and friends for their additional direction and support that they have offered, especially during the times when I have come upon a crossing in the roads or met that unexpected obstacle. Most notable in my more recent travel has been the addition of my new traveling partner, and soon to be wife, Karen Gibbs. I love her dearly and I am very grateful for her company as we set out in search of the same goals. Well, it's time to move on, I must continue with my travel and I look forward to seeing you in future passing. Take care and travel safe.

This was never easy, and it will not get any easier. The pace will never slow either. And I question constantly if this, then that, or could be, but maybe. No, I never doubt. I just want to be accurate.

Do not confuse accuracy with perfection. No, I will never be perfect. But accuracy is a more realistic, and honorable goal. You see, perfect is thinking the bull's eye is only as large as the point of the dart, and you aim for that and you will almost always miss, you will most always be disappointed and disappointing; and for the few times you hit the pinhead sized bull's eye: you will be deluded into thinking you are perfect.

You start beginning to believe you are perfect then quit being a doctor. Save us all from the times you miss the bull's eye.

Accuracy is knowing the bull's eye has nothing to do with the dart.

Accuracy is the art of aiming for the bull's eye. Know this, and your heart will heal you and those you touch.

My heartfelt thanks to the many selfless osteopathic physicians who participated in my education. You teach out of love for your profession, without pay and often at the detriment of your practice. Thanks for sharing your knowledge with me - I hope to continue your example with those who come after me...

Many times in life we are asked the question, "Who exemplifies our idea of the hero and who can we shape our lives after?" I don't think I've answered that question truthfully in the past. I have always wanted to be a man exuding integrity, honesty, and brilliance, while at the same time showing care, compassion, and love. The tools for becoming this man have been shown to me by my hero, my friend, and my father. I owe you everything, dad.

Behind my father stands the true strength and bond of the family, my mother. She is the real meaning of resiliency and support. I thank her with all my heart.

I would also like to acknowledge my sisters, Colleen and Amy, and their families who wouldn't let me forget how to have fun and that love is where the family is.

Without friends, medical school would have been unbearable so I must thank Greg Gaborek, Matt Girard, and hold a special place in my heart for David and Mary Atlas.

Finally, the one inspiration who has shown me love, kindness, and patience. Who has shown throughout her life that she is capable of overcoming any obstacle she may encounter with pride and grace. Thank You, Michele.

Dear Mom & Dad,

There is so much to thank you for, it is impossible. Here are things that really meant a lot to me.

Thank you for helping me with my grade school and high school. You taught me that education was important.

Thank you for attending my softball and hockey games. You made me feel proud. Thank you for sticking by me through those terrible teenage years. You made me realize the importance of family.

Thank you for listening and giving advice to me over the phone so many thousands of times when I complained, cried, babbled, or was just in a generally bad mood. I knew just how much you loved me then.

Thank you most of all for your encouragement. For without that, I wouldn't be where I am today.

Dear Mike,

You were the best study buddy I had when we were little (even though you probably didn't think so when I was waking you up to play). You are one of my best friends now. I love you, brother.

Dear Tom,

We met at a time when I was low on laughter, patience, love, and general well being. You gave that and more back to me. Thank you for being the truest friend I ever knew.

MOM & DAD: I guess you were right Mom! I was doomed from your belly, when you took me in to watch Dad perform surgery. It was my destiny to become a physician and without you both I would have never made it here today. I can't even express how grateful and thankful I am. When I called you from Rowland Hall crying studying for exams ... you would listen, and when I wanted most to quit ... you gave me a nudge. With your unflinching faith and support, & my perserverance we made it through medical school together.

KASHMIRA: Not only are you my little sister, but through the years we have become best friends. Your gentle hand and caring nature have taught me so much when caring for children. I know we will always be there for one another, let that be your strength in your uncertain future.

"Be not simply good; be good for something." - Henry David Thoreau

As I am about to begin my life-long dream of practicing medicine, I would like to acknowledge those people who offered me guidance, love and support along the way. I am deeply indebted to my parents for their never-ending love, patience and guidance. Thank you for inspiring and nurturing my dream (as a five year old) to become a physician. You have taught me independence and given me the confidence to strive for my goals. Deanna, Colleen and Tommy you are the best family. I have so many wonderful memories of our growing up together. Thank you for making "coming home" so much fun.

I owe a lot of who I am today to Rich, my best friend and husband. You have always believed in me and provided encouragement during tough times. I treasure all our times together -- from spur of the moment road trips, to evening walks around the neighborhood, to our discussions about life and our future together. I cannot express how grateful I am to have your friendship and love.

To the Kroth's and Lenox's, thank you for openly accepting me into your family. Your love and support have been appreciated by both Rich and me.

Finally I would like to dedicate this page to the memory of my grandmother. She will always be dear to me for her friendship and support during my college days.

MOM AND DAD: It has been a long and arduous journey, but now we have reached our goals....mine, to become a physician, and yours, to finally be free of the financial leech known as your son!

I want to thank you both for all the guidance, support, and love that you have given to me throughout this entire medical school process. Your sacrifices are truly appreciated and I will never forget all that they have allowed me to experience and accomplish.

KATHY: My fiancée and best friend. Your encouragement, advice and love gave me the strength to achieve my goals. You have made my life wonderful and will make it complete with our marriage. I love you.

ROTATION GROUP #9: To my clinical rotation partners, thanks for a great two years. Your camaraderie and friendship made the third and fourth years an unforgettable time in my life. Yes, that includes you defectors, Tiffany and Christine!

CLASS OF 1996: To all my friends and classmates, thanks for all the excellent memories and good luck in all that you do!

DON'T QUIT

WHEN THINGS GO WRONG, AS THEY SOMETIMES WILL,
WHEN THE ROAD YOU'RE TRUDGING SEEMS ALL UP HILL,
WHEN THE FUNDS ARE LOW AND THE DEBTS ARE HIGH
AND YOU WANT TO SMILE, BUT YOU HAVE TO SIGH,
WHEN CARE IS PRESSING YOU DOWN A BIT,
REST, IF YOU MUST -- BUT DON'T YOU QUIT,
LIFE IS QUEER WITH ITS TWIST AND TURNS,
AS EVERYONE OF US SOMETIMES LEARNS,
AND MANY A FAILURE TURNS ABOUT
WHEN HE MIGHT HAVE WON HAD HE STUCK IT OUT, DON'T GIVE UP, THOUGH THE PACE SEEMS SLOW --
YOU MIGHT SUCCEED WITH ANOTHER BLOW.
OFTEN THE GOAL IS NEARER THAN
IT SEEMS TO A FAINT AND FALTERING MAN,
OFTEN THE STRUGGLER HAS GIVEN UP
WHEN HE MIGHT HAVE CAPTURED THE VICTOR'S CUP
AND HE LEARNED TOO LATE, WHEN THE NIGHT SLIPPED DOWN,
HOW CLOSE HE WAS TO THE GOLDEN CROWN,
SUCCESS IS FAILURE TURNED INSIDE OUT --
THE SILVER TINT OF THE CLOUDS OF DOUBT -- AND YOU NEVER CAN TELL HOW CLOSE YOU ARE,
IT MAY BE NEAR WHEN IT SEEMS AFAR,
SO STICK TO THE FIGHT WHEN YOU'RE HARDEST HIT --
IT'S WHEN THINGS SEEM WORST THAT YOU MUSTN'T QUIT.

MOM and DAD: Every obstacle I've faced, it's never been alone. Thank you for your love and support. I couldn't have done it without you.

Graduating from medical school has always been a dream to me. Often I wonder how this dream could have ever come true with all of the challenges and setbacks I have had to overcome. Only now do I realize that I did not achieve this goal alone. I have been blessed with a wonderfully strong and supportive family that has overcome more than I could ever imagine. I would like to thank all of you now, although I should have thanked you a long time ago.

MOM - your passion for education, your demand for proper patient care, and most of all your love has brought me to where I am today. I love you.

GRAM & GRAMPS - You have always been there for your bad little grandson. I have always enjoyed spending time with you, I know you hate doctors, but do you think you can make an exception???

Alicia - I have always known that I could count on you for anything. You are a wonderful sister and even a better friend.

Sean - I look in your six year old eyes and see only potential and love. May God bless you with the ability to achieve all you desire.

AMT - You have seen the good, the bad, and the ugly sides of me and yet you are still by my side. I often wonder why you tolerate all of my imperfections. You have been there for the good times and held me in the not-so-good times. I only hope that some day I can prove to you how much I do truly love you.

JD - Your passion for life amazes me. Remember to hit 'em long and straight and that a friend will always be only one phone call away.

I dedicate this page to my parents and my brother for teaching me to set goals and do my best to achieve them. Words cannot express my gratitude for all of your love and support. Each and everyone of you have given me more than you will ever know. You gave me more than I can ever repay. I am proud to have you as my family.

To my fellow classmates, who are both friends and colleagues. I would like to thank each and everyone of you for the help and support that you have given over the past four years. Especially, to J.B., T.K., T.B., T.T., R.M. I love you all for everything you've done for me.

This page is dedicated to late Philip M. Lessig, M.A., D.O., F.A.C.O.I. (1908-1976), in loving memory. When I was born, he had a wonderful joy of having his first grandson. It also caused him pain because he felt hopeless and helpless as I struggled to learn how to speak. He spent so much time to seek these answers for himself on why some children born without normal hearing. While looking for answers, he died peacefully. Twenty years later, I have answers for him. I have had to learn to cope, to survive, and triumph over my handicap. He knows that I will have a long struggle, but I know that nothing in my life has come easily. I never gave up my hope of becoming a physician. I did this for him. And he makes me very proud at this point. I love you, Poppy, and I miss you greatly.

Mom and Dad: I spent so many hours thinking of you before writing. I could not put the words together in this statement. I just want to thank for your constant love and support throughout the years. Whew! I love you both very much.

Grandma: Thank you for your unconditional love. Poppy is very proud of me.

Family: I share my accomplishment and celebration to you. Thank you for the support, guidance, encouragement, and advice.

Class of 1996: You have made through medical school. It was a great pleasure to work and to share the experience with you. Thank you for all the craziness and fun time we had.

You only live once, and I want to thank my family and friends for making my one time around better than I ever imagined thus far.

Mom & John John, thank you for your love and support, and for often standing back to allow me to live and learn. Thank you again for everything.

Baba & Pap, thank you for shaping my life with your values, for your unconditional love, and for always encouraging me to do my best. Your actions spoke louder than words.

Aunt Carol & Uncle Mike, thank you for always being there to listen to me, and especially for your never ending support and encouragement.

Gregory, I saved the best for last. You are truly the light of my life. Thank you for your unconditional love, support, encouragement, and understanding. And most of all, thank you for always being my best friend.

To the rest of my family and friends, thank you. I would not have reached this milestone without you.

To my Parents: Where do I begin? I cannot begin to express the thanks and love I have for both of you. I stand here today because of all your sacrifices and hard work. No matter how I try, I will never be able to repay you for all you have done for me. For the past 26 years, you have stood by me and supported me. The both of you have been what I believe to be the perfect parents. I am so proud to be your son. I love you both.

Tim: I am so proud of you. You have accomplished so much in such a short amount of time. I look up to you and admire you for your career, your accomplishments, and your beautiful wife Donna. I also forgive you for telling me I was adopted.

Lori: You are my best friend. It's great to have someone like you by my side while going through medical school. You are very special to me and will always have a special place in my heart. I love you.

Darius: You are the best friend anyone could ever ask for. You are selfless, considerate, trustworthy, and often foolish. I thank you for being the great friend that you are and being there when I need you.

Roomies: What can I say? It's been a great 4 years with all my roommates. John: You have definitely made my life more interesting. I'll never forget all those nights down at Who's On Third or the study breaks on Daphne Road. It's great to have a roommate like you. As for the boys on West Gowen: thanks for taking me in. I won't forget the Christmas party or CPR on the iguana. Melissa, Kate, and Nicole: It was a lot of fun living with the three of you. It gave me a new perspective on life. I'll miss all of you and your interesting lives.

Thanks again to all those people (especially my family) who stood by me and made me who I am today.

It is hard to believe that this day is finally here. A lot of sweat and tears went into achieving this degree. To Mom and Dad: You taught me to do my best, encouraged me to think for myself, and supported me in my decisions (even the bad ones). I love you both dearly and thank you for always being there for me.

To my sisters, Jean and Chris: Thanks for listening when I needed someone to talk to. I'm glad to call each of you "friend" as well as "sister."

To my friends: Thanks for sharing the good times and for making these past four years more bearable. You helped me keep it all in perspective. I couldn't have asked for a better bunch of friends. Good luck in all that you do!

To my wife, Pam: Thank you for your love and understanding and for encouraging me to fulfill my dream of becoming a doctor. TO MY WIFE: I can never find the words to tell you my darling how much you have given me. You gave up so much to follow me and raise our children. You have been my best friend for so long and gave me a push when I needed it. I could never have done it without your love and support. I love you so much, Thank you.

TO MY CHILDREN: As you grow these years will become a distant memory. I'll never forget that you were my strength, and comfort when it seemed so hopeless.

TO MY PARENTS: You were both there when I needed you. Without you, my family could not have made it. Mom always remember: "I love you forever, I like you for always, as long as I'm living my mommy you will be." Dad, your a man of great character. I've seen you carry the weight of the world on your shoulders and not complain or ask for help. You gave me the chance to have a dream come true. Something I will never forget. Thank you both so much.

TO MY BROTHER: Growing up, I never needed a best friend. I always had you. I can't imagine my life without you. You have a beautiful family and deserve the best. I love you.

TO JILL AND NOONIE: You have been like sisters to me over the years. Something I cherish so much. Jill you helped me so much when I came to visit and I never had to ask. Thank you.

As I reflect upon my life's stepping stones, I am reminded that I have not traveled this journey alone. Every step of the way, I have received the greatest support and love from family and friends. I truly believe that I could not have ascended this pinnacle without it. Mom and Pops, you are the most wonderful parents, I love you dearly. You were and always will be the pillar of my strength. To the rest of the sibs, thanks for the spiritual support. When times got real tuff, the obvious crutch was the drink and who better to share those moments with than the 4 HORSEMEN. Darius, VJ, and Kirk, a picture tells a thousand words. Thanks for the memories and always keep in touch. Finally, to the one who was the most compassionate and loving. The one who is my best friend and the love of my life. Trese you certainly are the best. I cannot leave without thanking all the professors at PCOM that were instrumental in my education. And to the greatest of all in my mind, who is smiling down from heaven, Joanne Pieringer. I will never forget you. Thank you everyone.

Pops: The iron horse who worked himself night and day. You had the courage to start your own business to give your sons opportunities that you did not. You are a great father. If I could be half the man you are I would be proud.

Mother: The rock that held our family together. Your strong will and never-ending patience is what molded your sons into what they are today. I never told you nearly enough how much I love you.

Jimmy: My academic rival and second father. "To those that much was given, much will be asked." You taught me the meaning of that quote through words and deeds. I hope I can live up to it.

Walt: Truly my boyhood idol. I can remember sitting on the steps at Stevens Road watching you do your homework at the card table. I would spend countless hours mimicing your handwriting just so I could 'be like you'. It gives me great joy when people compare me to you.

Eddie: My athletic rival and one of my closest friends. The memories of a shared childhood will always be with me. From St. Chris to St. Hillary's to Ryan to LaSalle, your influence probably runs the strongest. For that I am eternally grateful because you have the unique ability to bring out the good side of the people around you. Hands down you are the Best Man of the lot.

Da Boyz: We came, we saw, we conquered

Terri: My colleague and my future. Medicine may have given my life direction but you have given it meaning. You are the one who taught me to open my heart and in so doing you opened my eyes to a whole new world with you. Make me a channel of your peace.
Where there is hatred let me bring your love.
Where there is injury your pardon, Lord,
And where there's doubt true faith in you.

Make me a channel of your peace.
Where there's despair in life let me bring hope,
Where there is darkness, only light,
And where there's sadness, ever joy.

O Master grant that I may never seek,
So much to be consoled as to console,
To be understood as to understand,
To be loved as to love with all my soul.

Make me a channel of your peace.
It is in pardoning that we are pardoned.
In giving of ourselves that we receive,
And in dying that we are born to eternal life.

Thank you to my family and friends for all your loving prayers and support.

I would like to thank my family and friends for supporting me through one of the most difficult times of my life. You were always there whether I asked for advice or just needed someone to listen to me. I could not have succeeded without the love and encouragement that I was surrounded with, especially when I needed it most.

I would also like to express to all of my classmates, the bond that I feel with all of you having shared the medical school experience. Whether I became friends with you through the years or whether we never even met, I wish you all luck and success in the future and I hope we remember our PCOM roots throughout our careers.

Once I was told that you are never given a dream without being given the power to make it come true. There are many that I have to thank for giving me the power....

TO MY FAMILY: Thank you for Love, Prayers, Guidance, and Support you have given me throughout life and medical school. Your belief in me, helped me to believe in myself. Thank you for teaching me Values, Hardwork, Saving, and the Guidance to pursue Education. I Love you all very much.

TO MY FRIENDS: Thanks for the memories, the Encouragement, and the Help to make it through these past four years. SCOTT, A special thanks for putting up with me and those All-nighters during midterms and finals. Your like a brother to me. I wish Trish and you all the best that God can bless you with! Maybe in 10 years, we can go to HARRY's again!!

TO GOD: Thanks for letting me make all the mistakes that I have made, for giving me the determination to pursue my life long dream, and for the strength to undergo whatever the future holds for me.

"The difference between a successful person and others is not the lack of strength, not a lack of knowledge, but rather in a lack of will." - unknown

It is with much gratitude and appreciation that I thank all those around me for helping me to accomplish the DREAM that a bold little third grader set many years ago.

Mom and Dad, you have been an ever-present source of support and love, encouragement and standing beside me with every decision I've made. You took that bold third grader and taught him to do what he thought was right, no matter what it was, and to reach for his dreams. I love you both!

Rick, Carolyn, Stephen, Ruth Ann, and Timmy, what more could I ask for? You all are the greatest, and I love you all very much, thank you!

To all my extended family and friends who have given various forms of support, thank you!

Trish, you literally stood by me all the way. I owe you so very much. You are my friend, my lover, my wife, my LIFE. Thank you for being there no matter what, for listening when times were rough and for celebrating when goals were achieved. Most of all, thank you for being a part of my life and sharing in OUR DREAM. I love you baby!

Giving Glory and Honor to God from whom all Blessings flow.

It is appropriate and gratifying to express to those who are so close to me personally and professionally my deep, personal appreciation for whatever support and kindness extended to me during my four years at PCOM. I am particularly grateful to my friends and family. To each I express my deep gratitude and appreciation for their support, telephone calls, words of encouragement and the general and indispensable help and advice. Special Thanks to Tanya, Marilyn, Kandace, Kristy, Toni, Yvonne, Chet and Greta for making me part of their family and remaining tolerable of my somewhat unusual circumstances. It is truly a blessing to have Sisters and Brothers who love and support you just because. To my dearest sisters and brothers, Drenn, Sharon, Charles, Lionel and Milton, I truly cherish our one of a kind loving relationship. Your love, confidence, and faith in me have been part of my sustaining force throughout my medical education. Always and forever your "Baby" sister, Dr. Dee. Love and warm wishes to my sisters and brothers for away. Gladys, Linda, Dianne, Samuel and ABE. I thank you for being there for me, also. I love you dearly. To all my cousins and Aunts, especially Nikki, Karen, Ann, Ruthie, Vanessa, Linda and Dee, I thank you for cheering me on. Uncle "Candy Man" thank you for being in my corner every step of the way. To all my beautiful nieces, nephews and in-laws, I love you. Kim and Tracy - good luck in your endeavors. Thanks for your Respect and Love. Special Thanks goes out to Janice and Adrian for their continuous support and love. Thank you for remaining true friends in the midst of my ups and downs. You both are the epitome of the word "Friend." I love you dearly. Most of all, I wish to express my deep love and inexpressible thanks to my mother, Julia Borders, and my children, Melvin II, and Julian. Only they know of their love, strength, patience, their unselfish understanding of the time, effort and commitment that is required to bring a dream of being a doctor to reality. Without their support and encouragement, it would have been impossible to accomplish this type of endeavor. Indeed, it has been that loving understanding that has made this, and whatever else I do, worthwhile, possible, and personally rewarding and hence a labor of love. Also, Mother, I thank you for your relentless belief and faith in me. More importantly, I thank you for being the best mother to my children. This achievement is as much yours as it is mine; so are the rewards that shall follow. I love it ALL to you, my dearest love. In loving memory of my father, Samuel Borden, grandmother, Annie Johnson "Big Mama", grandfather Webster "Frog" Johnson, Aunt Cleora, "Ma Dear", Auntie Easter, and Uncle Mango. I dedicate this page to all of you. The pain I feel knowing I will never see you again is insurmountable. But deep inside of my very soul, I know that you are proud of me. I am today a doctor, Daddy, Big Mama and Frog because of your profound teachings, christian value and unconditional love. Missing you, terribly. "J", "Betcha by golly, wow," you're the one I've been waiting for. Thank you for your devotion and commitment. You have become my best friend, my love and my future.

To Mom and Dad whom I owe the most, thanks for your endless love, support, and encouragement. Thank you Roy, Susan, Eileen, Glenn, Colleen, Maureen, Christine, and Randy. Your faith in me is enough to make any man accomplish anything. And to the rest of my relatives and friends from home who have endured my stories over dinner, I am grateful for your support and understanding.

Thanks to my friends, especially Eric, my pal from day one, Gabe, Clarky, and Anu who believe in me although I'm not sure why, John who lets me know how bad the Bills are, Staci who is very special to me, my missing housemate Pat, my big sister Kerri, and the rest of my friends who are no less important to me. You all have made medical school bearable and very memorable. I will never forget the experiences we had and the fun times we shared. No one could ever ask for better friends. Best of luck and God bless all of you.

Well, it's finally here. The end of a very long road, the realization of a dream. So many people helped me along the way. I cannot thank them all enough, but here is a start.

Christine, for all your love and understanding, for standing by me through the rough times, and for putting up with me. Thank you from the bottom of my heart. I love you very much!

Mom and Dad, for all your love and support, and for all that you have given to me and done for me. I can never thank you enough!

Steve Kennedy D.O., without whose constant nagging, I would not have even applied to medical school. Thanks for being a great friend. I am forever grateful!

Mom and Dad, thank you for your never-ending support and guidance. Thanks mom for those late night/early morning phone calls when things seemed the darkest. Your love and unyielding support has given me the strength and determination to make it through medical school and life's continuing challenges.

Oma and Opa, your wisdom and love I will always carry close to my heart through all of life's experiences.

Eileen, you have filled a very special place in my heart. Thank you for your unconditional love and support. You have helped me to endure many obstacles which seemed unconquerable by myself. I am a more complete person with you in my life! Let's continue the team work!

To all of my friends, your friendship has made me stronger and more mature. Thank you Paul Maione for always being there! Thank you Damon Bass for your humor and understanding - this has kept me sane in a crazy environment! Thank you Barry Horton for your gentle kindness and understanding.

Zack:

I know there have been times when I have not been there. Please always remember I love you more than I can adequately express with words. I am very blessed to be able to say that I finally made it, and I am a physician. But, I am even more blessed to be able to say I am your dad. I love you -- double stamps, no erases.

Mom and Dad:

You know how much you both mean to me. Thank you for all of your continued encouragement, guidance and wisdom. To say it all thank you for always being there. I love you both dearly.

Friends:

As time progresses and we travel our own paths I will always have the memories and the joy of calling you my friend. Even though we may not see each other or talk for months, there will always be a special place in my heart for my friends, I love you all.

To Mom and Sooz- Thanks for always loving me, even when I was difficult to love. Thanks for believing in me when I didn't believe. Thanks for always supporting me, for without you surely I wouldn't have made it.

To Adri- Thanks for all the laughs and for being there through all the ups and downs.

To Katie- Thanks for being the best lifting partner anyone could ask for, and for being a wonderful friend who always has an encouraging word.

To Kristen- I will always treasure the friendship we found, sister of mine.

To Mary Ann- Thanks for all your good advice and for always being there.

To Jim- Thanks for being my constant voice of reason, and for always knowing when to call.

To Dave- Thanks for all the great times and provocative conversations.... What??

Finally, to Paul- Thank you for being the most wonderful man I have ever met. Thank you for your love, your patience, your kindness, your friendship and your laughter. Thank you for always being behind me in all the ways that count. I love you, Mav, and I want to be just like you when I grow up.

TIME HAS PASSED SO QUICKLY
AND I FIND MYSELF TODAY
AT THE END OF A CHALLENGING JOURNEY
WHERE I'VE LEARNED MUCH ALONG THE WAY.

AMID THE SACRIFICE AND STRUGGLES
I'VE ENCOUNTERED ON MY QUEST,
I'VE NURTURED, I'VE HEALED, I'VE COMFORTED A NEED, VOWING ALWAYS TO GIVE MY BEST.

I'VE EXPERIENCED THE MIRACLE OF A NEWBORN LIFE,
THE FIRST SOUNDS OF ITS INNOCENT BREATH,
AND I'VE ALSO SEEN THE DEVASTATION AND GRIEF, WHICH ACCOMPANIES THE STING OF DEATH.

I'VE BEEN BLESSED WITH JOYS OF SUCCEEDING,
BY WORKING HARD TO EARN MY GOAL,
YET ON MY DAY-TO-DAY JOURNEY,
EXPERIENCED TIMES THAT HAVE TESTED MY SOUL.

DAYS WHEN HOPE LOOKED DARKEST
AND THE FUTURE SEEMED BILAKIN,
WHEN ALL THAT STOOD FIRM HAD CRUMBBLED,
AND MY WILL TO KEEP ON HAD WEAKENED.

IT WAS DURING THESE TIMES OF DARKNESS
WHEN MY FAITH WAS TESTED AND TRIED,
THAT I FELT THE GRACE AND UNCONDITIONAL LOVE OF GOD, MY HEAVENLY GUIDE.

AS THIS JOURNEY I'M TAKING CONTINUES ON STILL LONGER,
I'LL PRESS ON KNOWING THERE'S MORE AHEAD,
TO CHALLENGE AND MAKE ME STRONGER.

AND WHEN THE SICKNESS, PAIN, AND SORROW
MAKES IT UNBEARABLE TO COPY
I'LL KEEP TURNING TO HEAVEN FOR THERE I'LL FIND THE SOURCE OF MY ETERNAL HOPE.

Seven Seas From My Homeland (1985)

I came to a wonderland,
Seven seas far away from my relatives and friends.
Big cities and bright light attracts me,
But I'll never forget the soil where I was first nourished.
Stylish clothes and stimulating parties wait for me,
But I've dreams to fulfill that only hard work can make succeed.

Western culture speaks of freedom to me,
But how can a tree that is grown in a tropical forest survive amidst evergreen.
I don't feel like a lonely creature from a different planet,
People are friendly and understanding.
I am striving to discover and polish my talents in the land of opportunities,
Seven seas far away from my relatives and friends

To my Mom and Dad, Glen and Sherry, none of this would at all be possible without your love, support, encouragement and kick in the pants when I needed it. I have been truly blessed to have you for parents. To my brother Dave, thanks for your support and understanding, may you chase your dreams and soar with the eagles. To my sister Sheryl and her family, you were my rock when I needed it, you always listened to me rant and rave. I hope Daniel, Jeffery and Alexander are equally as wealthy. And to Tammy, my beloved, you have stood by me at times when I seriously questioned my sanity. You put up with my bitching and moaning and always seemed to be able to redirect me. May we have a long and happy life together.

Finally, to the class of 1996, we went from "what the hell am I looking at" in anatomy to "what the hell is he talking about" in Biochemistry, to "what the hell am I looking at and is he talking about" in Neuro-Anatomy, all in our first year. Our second year we learned about all the things we did not learn from the first year. And during our third and fourth years we really learned about medicine, all the things that you truly cannot learn in a classroom. In all we were able to put it all together, We made it! Thanks to my many friends, good luck and God Bless.

Mom and Dad: I love you! I could not have done this without your support. Who would have thought the two Silver kids could be doctors?!

Charles: Which of us will be Dr. Silver first? You will always be my favorite brother. P.S. Mom loves me best!

Grams, Aunt Ellen & Rachel: You have been my home away from home. I do not know if I could have made it through this without you guys. I love you all more than words can say. Does this mean I have to do my own grocery shopping and laundry now?

Bob: You have been a wonderful friend over the past four years. Who else would have put up with all my neurosis?! You, I'll miss most of all.

Leah: You've been there for me since day #1. I'll never forget our "study" table. Thank you for taking me under your wing.

Anu: I couldn't think of another person that I'd want next to me in the alphabet. We've made it through some tough times. I'll miss you. Remember, Doctor, lawyer or engineer!

Chrysten: I'm not a bimbo, I'm a Doctor!! As much as we bitched about them, I'll miss our walks home alone, together.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the many people who have helped me throughout these four long years of medical school; starting, of course, with my family. Thank you all for your support.

Secondly, I would like to thank the entire PCOM faculty and staff for giving me an outstanding education. I would also like to send a special thanks to David Martin, Dr. Fogel, Dr. Kenney, and Dr. Cuzzolino for their voices of wisdom, confidence and kindness.

I would also like to extend special thanks to the following good friends who made medical school just a little more bearable: Wendolyn Ingram, Tracye Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman, Joy Bethel, and my goddaughter, Denise.

Finally, I would like to send an extra special thanks to the following people: Concetta Holloway, Kevin Williams, and last, but certainly not least, Kenneth Burno Jr. and the Burno family. If it were not for these people, I don't know how I would have overcome the many obstacles that I have faced since I've been in Philadelphia. Almost four years ago, I took a 20 hour bus ride from Georgia and was about 900 miles from my nearest relative. Now, I have family right here in the state of Pennsylvania. I love you all!

Now, more than ever, I realize no one is an island. I share this degree with:

My family - Your loving support and unwavering confidence have given me the inner strength to persevere through college and medical school. Thank you for always setting the example by which I live my life - if you work hard and believe in yourself, anything is attainable!

My son - Andrew, you truly are a little miracle. When your life hung in the balance, I learned the most important lesson in medical school - never to be squandered is the miracle of another human being. Thank you for choosing me as your daddy.

My wife - Annmarie, for hearing my thoughts, understanding my dreams, being my best friend, filling my life with music, and loving me without end, I thank you! Together, we have overcome many obstacles and have grown closer each time. Now take my hand, come walk with me along life's winding way. I love you, now and forever!

A Physician's Prayer

Dear Lord,

Please give skill to my hands, clear vision to my mind, kindness and sympathy to my heart.

Give me singleness of purpose, strength to lift at least a part of the burden of my suffering fellowmen, and a true realization of the rare privilege that is mine.

MOM AND DAD: JAVA AND AUDREE. Thanks for bringing me into this world and giving me the essential tools to live in it.

GRANDMA: JOSEPHINE. It was you who comforted me when I was ill. It was you who said to never look down but always look ahead. It was you who had very little education but bestowed on me a wealth of knowledge. It is you that I aspire to be like in all walks of life.

HUSBAND: JESSIE. I am indebted to you for all your support both financial and spiritual. You have shown both patience and understanding through all my ups and downs. This would not be possible if it were not for you. I can never repay you for all you have given me.

CHILD: ALEXA. Beautiful African violet came from up above given to us by God with Love. You are a princess descended from an ancestral line of Excellence. Your cries are sweet like a Xylophone. You will always be the Apple of my eye.

FRIENDS: GRETTA AND IVONNE. It is very difficult to find true friendship in these days; however, I can call you both day or night unconditionally. You are more than friends; you are sisters to me.

I close this page with a quotation that has helped me throughout the years.

Four years sounds like a long time, but has passed by faster than I ever imagined it would. We started out a bit scared and uncertain in Anatomy, but we slowly learned to live the life of a medical student. Then we were yanked out of the classroom and put into our clinical years where we had to start all over again. It hasn't been easy, but we helped each other out the best we knew how. I'd like to thank my family for putting up with my schedule and moods these past four years. Also, I want to thank Tony for being the best study partner and friend I have. I'll never forget the nights we spent sleeping on the chairs in room 337. Mostly, I want to thank my fiance, Jim, for always being there. You have given me happiness and love. When I was six years old I got to play doctor with Lauren, and through the years we played as often as possible. Prior to leaving for college I focused on a major field of study and a possible career path. My parents advised me that in order for me to be truly happy in my life's work, I must select a career involving an activity that I enjoy. Upon reflection, playing doctor was it. Thus my career was born.

MOM and DAD: You have given me life, character, direction, sensitivity, moral support and the power to believe in my own abilities to achieve. Now what?

JILL, JEFF and DOUG: Although you live in Manhattan we will continue to spend quality time together reminiscing the past, living the present and planning the future.

JAMIE: Since day one my love for you has continued to grow stronger. You have been a very special person in my life these past three years. I look forward to a wonderful future together.

All of the hardwork and academic accomplishments I have achieved could not have been made possible without the support of my family. I especially would like to thank my Mom and Dad, for which words cannot describe the feelings I have for both of you. You have given me so much throughout the years and have always been there when I needed you the most. Everything which I have done and all that I am I owe to you, and nothing would have been possible without your love, support, and encouragement. How can I say thank you to my parents oh so dear,
Who nurtured, taught, and gave to me all these weary years?
How can I say thank you to a family like mine,
Brothers, Sisters, Grandparents; encouraged me so kind.
How can I say thank you to the friends along the way,
We laughed, we cried, we hung in tight to brighten up the day.
My teachers struggled hard with me, the knowledge to be shared,
Eventually it was I who learned how much they really cared.
My love, my light, my everything; you took away my strife,
You kept me going when I was down, you're sunshine in my life.
To those who played a simple part, the many I could miss,
Don't worry cause you'll always know you filled a heart with bliss.
And last not least, thank you Dear Lord, I wish not to offend,
For without you, this task I know, could not be done again.

"When I first started medical college, 'four years' seemed so far away. Now, the end is near and 'four years ago' seems so far away."

First, I'd like to thank God for His continual blessings; Mom and Dad for the support, encouragement, and guidance throughout years. "I LOVE YOU!"

Special thanks to Carol Fox, Dr. Finkelstein, Dean Veit, and Dr. Cuzzolino for giving me a chance and believing.

Continual thanks: to Library Staff... especially, Kathleen and Lillie for all your help and prayers.

Much gratitude to my mentors: Dr. Vijay Dave, Dr. Natu Patel, and Dr. Paul Missichia. You all mean so much to me! Thank you for always having time.

Good luck and much prosperity to the Class of 1996!

Danke schoen Mutti und Vatti. Ohne euch beiden haette ich es nicht machen koennen, aber mit euerer liebe war die abarbeit leicht zu lernen.

You instilled in me the values of hard work and delayed gratification and given me the motivation to advance. Thanks mom and dad, you really made life easier. I guess parents never stop worrying.

To my evil twin brother Mark and my older bully brother Bob, thanks for thinking I was to busy studying to call when you were throwing those wild all nighters. Thanks a lot. But really, you guys are the best brothers our parents could find. I am also grateful to all my relatives and friends for their backing and encouragement.

To my family and loving wife I thank you for your love, support, and strength. My accomplishments would have been hardly possible without all of you. I also thank the many individuals who have nurtured my interest in the field of Osteopathy and empowered me with "thinking, feeling, seeing, knowing fingers." The countless hours and personal insights shared will long be remembered as I continue as an ongoing student of Osteopathy.

I would like to dedicate this page to the special people in my life who have inspired me to do great things...

Mom, Dad, Doug and Jennifer- Thank you for the love, support and encouragement you have given me throughout my life. Your generosity and the sacrifices you have made for me have not gone unnoticed nor unappreciated. I love you!

To my grandparents- You have been a source of inspiration. Thanks for keeping me focused on the target.

Christie- You are the most special person in my life. I look forward to a beautiful future together. Hey G. "Hi, how are you?"

To my medical school companions, particularly E, B, Clarky, Mulch, Brothah, Jeff, Pat and Anu- Thanks for putting up with my "opinions." Our friendships will always be special to me. I will never forget these four years...our first night at Eli's, Natural Lite, Monday Night Football at Charlie's, frequent trips to the Spectrum and Vet, phone calls to Bob, Kyle's weekend in New Hampshire, watching the Bills lose, etc, etc, etc... Live long and make lots of money. I love you guys. PEACE!

MOM & DAD

Can you believe it? I'm finally graduating for the LAST time. The sacrifices you have made for Jackie and I are immeasurable. You have been my strength and guidance through every endeavor I have undertaken. Thank you for being the wonderful parents and friends that you are. A special thanks for my unlimited credit to 'Phone Home', it has made the distance between us a little more bearable. I Love You Lots!

MY SISTER AND HER FAMILY

Jackie and Don - thanks for all of your support through the years, and for the greatest joys of my life - Joshua and Tori.

Jackie - you taught me to see the best in other people. While I was busy bringing home stray animals, you were busy finding 'stray kids'. Your kindness and generosity toward others is a gift. You are a wonderful person and a great sister!

KELLY

We met in nursery school and we have been inseparable since! We've gone from me painting better windows, to you in a body cast, to Catholic school, to dressing alike, to parties, to traveling abroad, to college and finally to Docs! Growing up wouldn't have been the same without you. Thanks for always being there!

DENNIS

Who Da Think? The guy who sat next to me first year is now my sidekick for life. I was always told never to settle for less than the best and I didn't! Your love, wit and questionable sanity have kept me smiling through this arduous journey. Medicine may be our careers but You are my life! I love you with all my heart.

"A wife of noble character is her husband's crown ... her children arise and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praises her: many women do noble things, but you surpass them all."

Proverbs 12 : 4a, 31 : 28-29

"Sons are a heritage from the Lord, children a reward from Him."

Psalms 127 : 3

"Your attitude should be the same as that of Christ Jesus: Who being in very nature God, did not consider equality with God something to be clung to, but made himself nothing, taking the very nature of a servant, being made in human likeness. And being found in appearance as a man, he humbled himself and became obedient to death—even death on a cross! Therefore God exalted him to the highest place and gave him the name that is above every name, that at the name of Jesus every knee will bow, in heaven and on earth and under the earth, and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the father."

Philippians 2 : 5-11

"These are written that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that by believing you may have life in His name."

FAITH, FAMILY & FRIENDS. This has been my strength and support over the past four years.

To my Lord & Savior Jesus Christ for in whom all things are possible, I thank you for giving me the strength to meet this challenge, and may you continue to grant me guidance throughout my medical career according to your will.

To my parents, let me say that your unconditional love and support have lifted me over many difficult times and allowed me to continue to pursue my dreams.

To my family, I thank you for your constant encouragement and support, including my very own "pediatric practice."

To all my friends, your support and fellowship have allowed me to keep smiling even during the hardest of times. For this, I am sincerely grateful.

To my Classmates, I wish you all the best and hope that happiness follows you in every direction you take.

To my Mother, who I could never thank enough for everything she has done for me; the support, love, understanding, encouragement and most importantly for my mere existence.

To Anthony and Frank, my big brothers, thanks for all the support and encouragement these past four years. And Frank, you showed me a side of me I didn't know I had. KARAOKE and JERRY'S!

In loving memory of my Father; I dedicate this page to you- You were and still are my guide through life. I wish so much you were still here to help me, but I know you are watching, smiling and very proud. Buddies FOREVER, LOVE YOU DAD.

MOM and DAD: Thank you so much for your continual love and support. I am very fortunate to have parents who realize the importance of a good education and pursuing your goals. I owe everything that I have achieved today to the sacrifices you made while raising your family. You should be very proud of the job you have done, and I will always be grateful.

BROTHERS/ SISTER: Thank you for being such great role models. Each of you have unique qualities that I admire very much. I hope to be as successful both professionally and personally as each of you have been throughout your lives. Our bond as family is very special and will always be something that is dear to me.

ALL THE GUYS: YOU'RE THE BEST!! Not many people are lucky enough to form lifelong friendships beginning in grade school. You have been a great outlet for stress. All those hours at "Pete's," "Flashback's," "The Depot," "The Grove," and "The Boat House" really paid off. You can now call me "Dr. JAP-ie."

LAURA: Can you believe I am finally done? It has been a long road with many "ups" and "downs," but I never would have survived without you. You have always been there for me, and I appreciate your patience and forgiveness throughout the years. You and Paul Jr. have added so much happiness to my life that I cannot imagine anything better. Our future is bright, and I look forward to raising our family and following our dreams. I love you.

The Biomedical Sciences program which began in the Fall 1993 offers a broad content base in the basic biomedical sciences with a strong emphasis on human medicine and clinical applications of the material. It is designed for college graduates who are preparing for admission to medical school and other health professions degree programs. It is expected that many students will be accepted to professional school upon completion of the first year, but students may choose to continue onto a second year of study to obtain the Master of Science degree in Biomedical Sciences to pursue various other career choices.

Together, we can make a world of difference.

Botsford, known nationally as a leading teaching hospital, offers extensive continuing education programs in a wide range of specialties and sub-specialties. Our affiliation with Michigan State University College of Osteopathic Medicine allows our physicians additional access to the latest research in diagnostic and therapeutic technology.

While we continue in our commitment to progress by expanding our facilities and training our staff in the most current techniques and procedures, we recognize that health care is not limited to technology.

Our most fundamental activity is the provision of personal, compassionate care that considers the entire person.

At Botsford, we believe that making a difference in the world starts in our community.

OFFICE OF CLINICAL EDUCATION

Focus on Medical Education

FAMILY HEALTH FOCUS

To improve accessibility and patient services, Doctors Hospital has initiated Family Health Focus, the largest single series of facility construction and renovation projects in its 54-year history, specifically designed to meet the long-term health needs of greater central Ohio area residents.

Family Health Focus highlights at Doctors North include a new entrance complete with patient drop-off, a visitor friendly front lobby with convenient registration and admitting areas, a centralized and expanded radiological imaging center, and a larger outpatient services area.

Family Health Focus highlights at Doctors West include a three-story addition, reconfigured campus with the front entrance facing West Broad Street, a state-of-the-art complex to house maternity and pediatric services and a new intensive/coronary care unit.

Excellence in Medical Education

Doctors Hospital is the only hospital in central Ohio accredited by both the American Osteopathic Association and the Joint Commission on the Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations. Doctors boasts a medical staff of more than 400 physicians, representing virtually all specialties, and a support staff of more than 1,900 allied health professionals and employees.

The Doctors Hospital system is large enough to provide interns and residents with a full spectrum of educational experiences; yet its component facilities are small enough to offer opportunities for cooperation and fellowship.

Editor's Note -

Synopsis 1996 represents the exciting and triumphant experiences we have all shared. In the proud tradition of PCOM graduates, we now embark upon medical careers for which we are well trained and dedicated.

As you flip through the many detailed pages, it will help to bring back wonderful memories of our four years at PCOM - from Uncle Manny's opening statement during Freshman orientation ("All ye who enter here..." - a statement from Norman Cousins) to the end of our clinical years. In the preclinical years, we studied hard, played games, did crossword puzzles from the Philadelphia Inquirer, gambled sports or real life events, or hibernated. While not studying or training, we had good times and certainly had bad ones too. During clinical years, we had good experiences and not so good experiences. Our medical knowledge has grown as the gray hairs on our head flourish. Our four years at PCOM have come to an end and this yearbook will always carry treasured memories. Wherever we go, Synopsis 1996 will keep us together. I wish each of you luck in fulfilling your dreams and in finding happiness in all you do. Congratulations!

On this page, I want to thank to my entire staff: Jackie Mela and Diana Melazzo for individual senior sections; Rich Lotsch for his help with senior life section and senior color section; David Addley for artistic talent and working with Rich; Joe Sposato for the advertising section; and John Venuti for helping us whenever we needed an extra hand. Also special thanks to Sandy Thomas '97 for the undergraduate section; Natasha, Joe Flynn, C.J. and Steve Rittenhouse for miscellaneous help; and Dennis McHugh, Josh Goldberg, Steve Ashe, and Dr. Rocco Crescenzo for developing the humorous captions. Great effort went into this yearbook. It took my staff and me numerous hours, restless days and evenings, and sleepless nights to produce this yearbook. We wanted to make our yearbook the best and most unique edition ever published. I hope that it meets your expectations.

And finally, a special heartfelt thanks to my dynamic senior editor, Terri White. Your presence is my strength. I have learned from you and acknowledge you for your participation in this project. You are such an outstanding example of compassion, integrity and commitment. Without you, I would not have been able to achieve this difficult task.

I Can't believe that exam!!!

I studied 16 hours a day and Go to every lecture!!!

No Whining Zone

I never sleep, eat, or go to relieve myself. I'm nothing but an educated amoeba What'd ya think of that exam, Bill... I must have got 3 wrong...

Boy was that tough or what?

awahhh!!

I gotta kill someone... yeah I'll blame it on stress...

They'll change my grade out of sympathy + make the exams easier out of pity.

That's a great idea!!
